Lino Tagliapietra — Blown Glass Sculpture

Lino Tagliapietra, one of the most eminent living glass artists in the world, is well-known for his mastery of traditional Venetian glassblowing techniques. His delicately filigreed and uniquely textured pieces demonstrate an incomparable mastery of the medium, keenly honed over the last 60 years of working as an apprentice, master collaborator, independent artist and teacher.

Tagliapietra's work can be seen in many permanent museum collections and galleries around the world including the Tokyo National Modern Art Museum in Japan, Heller Gallery in New York, the Museum of Glass in Tacoma and the Musée des Arts Décoratifs in Paris.

This piece is from his Dinosaur series. Tagliapietra remarked that he tries "to create objects with simple forms...With this series, I have tried to integrate the strength of the dinosaur with the fluidity of the fishes that inhabit the waters of Venice." This striking red, black and translucent piece is richly textured with two complementary surfaces. The combination of the richly colored composition and varied texture create a dynamic and intriguing piece.

Crush and Inaugural Barrel Walla Walla Vintners Estate Wine

Walla Walla Vintners owners and winemakers Gordy Venneri and Myles Anderson have been instrumental in founding the Walla Walla wine movement and helping establish Walla Walla as a wine lover's destination. Throughout the years, Walla Walla Vintners has purchased grapes from many notable vineyards including Pepper Bridge, Seven Hills and Sagemoor, resulting in spectacular, limited-production blended wines. Their dedication to making premium, hand-crafted reds has earned them numerous awards and accolades.

As Venneri and Anderson celebrate their 15 year commercial winemaking partnership, 2010 will prove to be another exciting year as they crush and barrel Walla Walla Vintner's first production of Estate Wine from Estate vineyards planted in 2008.

To celebrate the harvest and production of the inaugural Estate wine vintage, you and seven guests are personally invited to the Fall crush. Crush is the culmination of a full year's work in the vineyards and because Mother Nature is unpredictable, the harvest date varies from year to year.

As the winning bidder you will receive the first 24 cases produced and be the Inaugural Member of the Estate Club mailing list.

- * Personal invitation for you and seven guests to the Fall 2010 crush of Walla Walla Vintner's first Estate wine harvest.
- * Receive the first 24 cases of wine from Walla Walla Vintner's Inaugural Barrel of Estate Wine
- * Be the Inaugural Member on the Estate Club mailing list

Crush will take place in the fall of 2010. The specific date is controlled largely by Mother Nature. The winning bidder will be notified as early as possible.

Party for 20 at Martin Blank's Studio

Martin Blank is one of America's premier figurative sculptors with a style quintessentially his own. From the musculature of a male torso, to the sensual curve of a scarlet abstract element, to the placid elegance of glass trees, he creates on a massive scale. He challenges the material, creating a bold new vocabulary for fine art sculpture. His work has been featured in numerous museums including the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and the Millennium Museum in Beijing.

This is a unique opportunity to gather together 20 of your friends for an unforgettable evening with renowned glass sculptor Martin Blank in his hot shop. If you've seen glass before — you've never seen it like this! Martin and his expert team will demonstrate the amazing and unpredictable qualities of glass. You and your friends will enjoy fantastic wine courtesy of Three Rivers Winery and scrumptious hors d'oeuvres prepared by Brooke Benaroya while you experience first-hand the art of glass blowing.

And as a bonus, the winning bidder will receive tonight a $5,000 gift certificate to use to purchase or apply toward a purchase of a stunning Martin Blank work of art!

- * Party for 20 at Martin Blank's studio and hot shop in Seattle
- * Exciting glass blowing demonstration
- * $5,000 gift certificate to use to purchase or apply toward the purchase of a Martin Blank glass piece

Dale Chihuly — Persian Set

Dale Chihuly transformed the Studio Glass movement and put Seattle and the Pacific Northwest on the map as a cultural center for glass art. Chihuly is widely known as one of the foremost glass artists in the world and his work is included in numerous museum collections around the world including Corning Museum of Glass in New York, Victoria and Albert Museum in London, and the Musée des Arts Décoratifs, in Paris. Recently Chihuly has shown exhibitions in Venice, Phoenix, Las Vegas and the New York Botanical Garden.

The Persian series grew from Chihuly's search for new forms. This piece is a striking example of the artist's exploration of new and innovative designs. The varied components are combined to create a dynamic composition in translucent layered rose tones accented with delicate blue lip wraps.

William Morris Glass Fishhook

William Morris is an internationally renowned glass artist whose work is both provocative and innovative. Much of his oeuvre consists of work that is a modern exploration in glass of ancient archeological forms and objects. The artist is also known for his unique and distinct manipulation of the glass surface. He employs a variety of techniques including acid washing, sprinkling powdered glass and minerals onto the surface, and etching to achieve textural variety. Morris' work can be seen in the collections of numerous museums around the world including the Louvre in Paris, the Victoria and Albert Museum in London, and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

Recently retired, this may be one of the last opportunities to acquire one of Morris' eclectic and historic pieces. This work, entitled "Fish Hook," is a delicate and masterfully executed example of the artist's unique surface treatment and a beautiful articulation of archeological forms in blown glass.

Louisville and the Kentucky Derby for Two

A trip to Churchill Downs during Derby weekend can be an unforgettable experience. Here's a chance for you and a companion to attend America's original, extravagant springtime sports party.

While a horse race is at the heart of the spectacle, there are many intriguing aspects and traditions associated with the Derby Experience. From the potent mint juleps to the lavish hats, you won't want to miss a minute of it. Enjoy it all leading up to the "Greatest Two Minutes in Sports." But of course the highlight is the two great tickets you will receive for the famous "Run for the Roses," the Kentucky Derby, on Saturday, May 1, 2010. You'll also be treated to two tickets for the Kentucky Oaks race which takes place the day before.

The two of you will travel first-class on Alaska Airlines for a four-day, three-night stay at the beautiful Hyatt Regency Louisville. Your hotel is connected to the popular 4th Street Live! entertainment and dining complex and is close to Churchill Downs, the Louisville Slugger Museum and much more. The city will be hopping with over 70 popular Derby Festival events.
